

Scott Ludlam, Greens Senator for Western Australia presents a public forum on:

Oil Shock: Peak oil and Australia's vulnerability

Featuring

Professor Kjell Aleklett

President of the Association for the Study of Peak Oil & Gas (ASPO)

Thursday 16 December

5.45pm (for a 6pm start) to 7pm

The Greens WA Office, 445 Hay Street Perth

RSVP to 9335 7477 or Eloise.Dortch@aph.gov.au

Kjell Aleklett is Professor of Physics and leader of the Global Energy Systems Group at Uppsala University, Sweden. His interest in global energy issues began in 1994. He cofounded ASPO and has been its President since 2003 and organised the first International Workshop on Oil Depletion in 2002.

Professor Aleklett has been called upon to testify before committees in several parliaments including the US House of Representatives Subcommittee on Energy and Air Quality and the Australian Senate Inquiry into Public Transport. His latest research is a critical review of the International Energy Agency's forecasts of steady growth in oil production until 2030.
